DIRECTOR'S WEEKLY BRIEFING

By NWMC Executive Director Mark L. Fowler

WEEK ENDING APRIL 3, 2026

NWMC, BACOG Host First CMAP Century Plan Local Insights Workshop

On Tuesday, the NWMC and the Barrington Area Council of Governments (BACOG) hosted the Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning (CMAP) for the first Century Plan Local Insights Workshop. The event, held at Vehe Barn in Deer Park, brought together local officials and staff to discuss historic regional patterns, current conditions, future trends and how best to address them. The Century Plan will develop a shared vision for the region to guide long-term policies regarding transportation, environment, and the economy.

At the workshop, participants noted a desire for streamlined processes with state and regional partners to help communities maximize development opportunities, regional coordination to mitigate rising costs of replacing aging infrastructure and purchasing new equipment, and how successful implementation of strategic tools like TIFs and conservation easements can serve as models at a regional scale.

Learn more by visiting the Century Plan website, read up on the State of the Region, and subscribe to The Century Plan newsletter. Thank you to our regional partners at BACOG and CMAP for a successful event! Staff contacts: Eric Czarnota, Brian Larson

Final Reminder: APA Opens Spring Virtual Plan Commissioner Training to All

From the American Planning Association Illinois Chapter (APA-IL):

The APA-IL's virtual Plan Commissioner Training is happening on April 8 from 7:00-9:00 p.m. If that sounds familiar, that's because it is! The Illinois Chapter has been holding this virtual training in the spring and fall the last couple of years. Plan commissioners and board members dedicate significant time and effort reading packets, reviewing cases, holding public hearings, and considering policies. Yet, they rarely have the opportunity to step back and reflect on the bigger picture: the impact their work has on their community.

Because most commissioners and board members are not professionals in planning or development, they can benefit from additional training to strengthen their understanding of the profession. Even experienced commissioners and board members value the chance to learn what's new in planning and exchange ideas. This training helps commissioners and board members understand the basics of planning and explores how their decisions shape their communities. Who is this training for? All planning officials, boards, and commissions are welcome. This includes Zoning Board of Appeals, Design Review Board, Historic Preservation, etc. To learn more and to register, please visit the training announcement page. Staff contacts: Eric Czarnota, Brian Larson

FEMA Opens BRIC Program Applications

From the desk of Nancy Huynh, Director of Government Affairs, Office of Illinois Governor JB Pritzker:

The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) published the funding opportunity for the Fiscal Years 2024 and 2025 Building Resilient Infrastructure and Communities (BRIC) program. Through this funding opportunity, FEMA is making $1 billion in federal funding available to states, local governments, territories and Tribal Nations, empowering them to take decisive, proactive steps to protect their communities from potential disasters like fires, floods, earthquakes, and hurricanes.

This new BRIC funding opportunity is specifically designed to:

- Prioritize infrastructure resilience by funding construction projects that are ready to implement and incentivizing the adoption of the latest hazard-resistant building codes. This is a proven strategy to protect communities and reduce future disaster losses.
- Move money faster by eliminating phased projects, simplifying the National Competition scoring system and removing subapplication scoring by the National Review Panel. This will enable community leaders to take swift, decisive action to bolster their resilience to disasters.
- Shift responsibility and authority to states, territories and Tribal Nations by removing funding for hazard mitigation planning and non-financial direct technical assistance provisions. The program now maximizes state and local responsibility for resilience and risk reduction rather than federal investing in a wide range of activities.

Eligible applicants include states, the District of Columbia, U.S. territories and federally recognized Tribal Nations. Eligible subapplicants include local governments, communities, special districts and Tribal Nations applying through a state or territory. For the Fiscal Years 2024-25 funding cycle, these are the available categories:

- $112 million for states and territories (up to $2 million federal cost share for each applicant).
- $50 million Tribal Set-Aside (up to $2 million federal cost share for each applicant).

- $56 million for State or Territory Building Code Plus-Up (up to $1 million federal cost share per applicant) and $25 million for Tribal Nation Building Code Plus-Up to carry out eligible building code adoption and enforcement activities.
- $757 million for National Competition (up to $20 million federal cost share per subapplication).

No single applicant may receive more than 15% of the total available funding across all BRIC categories and includes the combined total of all funding category requests.

The application period will open on March 25, and run for 120 days. The deadline to submit applications is July 23.
