

Join Us for a Free Film Screening & Discussion

on June 6th at Evanston Public Library

Presented by Dan Kuhn, LCSW

“Monster in the Mind: The Convenient Un-Truth about Alzheimer’s”

As a CNN health correspondent, Jean Carper covered countless stories, won awards, and wrote books about health issues. Now in her 80’s, she has crafted a documentary that challenges customary thinking about Alzheimer’s disease. With humor and intelligence, she seeks out facts from experts and uses herself as a guinea pig for testing. She examines the fears and misconceptions about Alzheimer’s. Most importantly, she shares good news about reducing the risk for developing the disease.

1.5 Continuing Education Hours will be provided to Nurses, Social Workers, Licensed Clinical Professional Counselors, Physical Therapists and Nursing Home Administrators. Please have your License Number with you so you can receive your Continuing Education Certificate at the presentation.

Daniel Kuhn, LCSW, is Vice President of Education at All Trust Home Care, with offices in Hinsdale and Deerfield. Since 1987, he has focused exclusively on dementia care issues and has been an educator in the field of health and aging in various settings in the Chicago area. He has authored more than 50 publications, along with his book Alzheimer’s Early Stage: First Steps for Family, Friends and Caregivers.

Location: Evanston Public Library

1703 Orrington Ave, Evanston

Parking:

There is a public lot one block east of the library at the corner of Chicago Avenue and Church Street

Date: Wednesday, June 6, 2018

Time: 4:00 – 4:30 pm Registration

4:30 – 6:00 pm Movie and Discussion

RSVP: Lisa Graziano 630-499-6157

lisag@alltrusthomecare.com

Pictured: Jean Carper from the documentary

ALL TRUST HOME CARE
Place ALL TRUST in us