Mayors Caucus Announces ICECF Funding Opportunities

From the desk of Metropolitan Mayors Caucus Executive Director Dave Bennett:

The Illinois Clean Energy Community Foundation has asked the Mayors Caucus to pass on information regarding grants they have available for two programs municipalities of which municipalities may wish to take advantage. The deadline to submit applications is August 27, 2019.

The Foundation's First Responders Resilience Pilot Program is designed to improve the resilience of critical infrastructure through the installation of solar photovoltaic/energy storage systems. Photovoltaic (PV) panels with battery energy storage (BES) can provide electricity during power outages and emergencies. Facilities providing critical services can dramatically increase their resilience and ability to continue operating during emergencies if they have a PV/BES system in place. During non-emergency periods, the PV/BES system can reduce electricity purchases from the grid and utility demand charges; in some cases, PV/BES systems can also participate in the demand response and frequency regulation markets.

First Responders Resilience Pilot Program:

Eligible Applicants: Police Stations and Fire Stations
 Public Agencies Supplying Water

ICECF's Solar Thermal Grant Program supports the installation of solar thermal technology. By using energy from the sun, solar thermal technology can provide hot water, heating and cooling for various public buildings.

Solar Thermal Grant Program:

Eligible Applicants: Local Governments, Colleges and Universities, 501(c)(3) NFPs
