MMC Announces Stretch Code Training Opportunities

From the desk of Metropolitan Mayors Caucus (MMC) Senior Sustainability Specialist Cheryl Scott:

As you may already know, the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules (JCAR) passed the stretch energy codes in September, and the stretch codes will be available for communities to adopt on Jan. 1, 2025. Our training for the Illinois stretch codes has been finalized and is hosted by MEEA.

Energy codes are among the most cost-effective tools impacting the energy use and emissions of newly constructed buildings, and stretch codes are a great option for jurisdictions with climate or energy goals. These trainings will be a valuable opportunity for builders, code officials, tradespeople, and more, to learn from an expert in stretch codes and find out about the changes that may impact building energy code requirements in Illinois.

The trainings are split into two different areas of focus: residential and commercial. Virtual and in-person options are available. Continuing education credits will also be available for AIA(HSW), ICC and RESNET.

For more information and to register, please see below.

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/1024305795207?aff=oddtcreator> - Residential Virtual, October 29, 10 a.m.-12 p.m.

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/1024306527397?aff=oddtcreator> - Commercial Virtual, October 30, 10 a.m.-12 p.m.

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/1024073490377?aff=oddtcreator> - Residential in-person, November 13, 9 a.m.-12 p.m.

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/1024301271677?aff=oddtcreator> - Commercial in-person, November 20, 9 a.m.-12 p.m.

If you are eager to learn more about the state stretch codes before these upcoming training opportunities, then please view the recording from our Sept. 16th Advanced Building Energy Efficiency Policies (ABEEP) Task Force meeting, during which we went over stretch code frequently asked questions (FAQs). The slides and other meeting materials are available on our ABEEP Task Force meeting materials webpage. The ABEEP Task Force is funded by ComEd.
